Season V Overall Payouts

1st $600

2nd $400

3rd $300

4th $200

Tourney Point Distribution

Points for tournaments will be awarded as follows:

15, 10, 8, 7, 6, 5, 5 (Top 7 will make the final table, as always)

4, 4, 3, 3, 2, 2, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0

Seating

Final table - 7 players

14 players or less we will use 2 tables.

15+ players - 3 tables.

Calling Time

Each player is allowed to call time once during a tournament.

Best Hand of the Year - $100

The player that makes the best hand of the entire year will be awarded this $100 prize. Important note: To qualify for this prize, you must use both (2) of your hole cards to make the hand and the hand must make it to showdown.

End of Season Joe Bag of Donuts Hand™ - $100

You know the routine. The Joe Bag hand is only open to players who did not finish the season in the money (i.e. top 4 finishers). Hands are dealt face up to each player (players do not have to be present) followed by the usual flop, turn and river. The weakest hand of each round is eliminated. The process is repeated until one man is left standing. The drama is unparalleled, the skill is non-existent.

Most Season Points at the Halfway Point - $50 - NEW!

We will take everyone's best 4 events after the 5th tournament has been played and award that player $50.

Mini Joe Bag of Donuts Hand - $50 - NEW!

Just like the classic Joe Bag of Donuts hand we all know and love, the Mini Joe Bag hand will be played out after event 5 and will be open to all players except the current season points leader (again we'll use the best 4 events).

Royal Flush Payout - $90 - NEW!

The first player to make a Royal Flush will win $90*. If no Royal Flush is made during the season, the award will carry over to the next season (and the next season after that, if need be, etc). Players can make a Royal Flush using only one (1) hole card, but to be eligible for the Royal Flush prize, the hand must go to showdown.

Royal Flush payout will adjust depending on the number of players playing each season @ $5/player.
